Notice Regarding the Occurrence of Ransomware Infection Damage and the Possibility of Information Leakage at Consolidated Subsidiaries (Second Report)

Yodogawa Steel Works, Ltd. (the “Company”) hereby provides an update on the current situation regarding the ransomware infection damage and the potential information leak at Sheng Yu Steel Co., Ltd. (“SYSCO”), a consolidated subsidiary of the Company in Taiwan, which we initially reported on April 25, 2025.

1. Current Status

All systems affected by the unauthorized access to SYSCO’s server by a third party have been fully restored, and data recovery is largely complete. As a result, there has been no disruption to SYSCO’s business operations. Furthermore, no secondary damage has been confirmed to date.

As a countermeasure, security enhancement measures have been completed with the support of outside experts.

Regarding the leaked information, there is possibility that the personal information of individuals associated with SYSCO’s employees and its individual shareholders has been leaked. SYSCO is currently taking appropriate measures in consultation with outside experts, in addition to timely disclosure of information on site and on its website.

Separately, SYSCO is being investigated by the relevant local authorities regarding its response to this incident. A further update will be provided once the details of the investigation results are clarified.

We would like to extend our deepest apologies to all stakeholders for the significant concerns and inconveniences caused.

2. Impact on Business Performance

The Company believes that this incident will only have a negligible impact on the Group’s business performance. We will promptly disclose any information that could materially impact our business results.
